

So What Do you Want to See?

Contributed by Alex

OK, our better-late-than-never new year's resolution is to keep up with this site. We promise. For a while we were just posting stuff that was mainly related to our (actually Lauren's) exhibitionistic activities. But since we are beginning to explore our fantasies with others, we will include that stuff too. And, of course, we will continue to let you know what happens at CVE and the other adult businesses that we visit from time to time. We are even tweeting at Twitter to keep you up to date between posts. We have some other ideas, too, but we would like your input.

We've been running a poll since the site started, trying to get an idea of those who visit us here. Here is what we have found out. Here are the percentages of people who have visited the site over the past several months:

- Guy whose wife or girlfriend has no interest in this sort of thing - 29%
- Deeply committed couple - 21%
- Single guy - 18%
- A guy that can't wait to show this site to his wife/gf - 11%
- Friends with Benefits (visiting together) - 6%
- A girl that can't wait to show this site to her hubby/bf - 5%
- A single girl - 4%
- A girl that can't wait to show this site to her hubby/bf - 4%
- A girl whose hubby/bf has no interest in this sort of thing - 2%

While about half our our guests are single guys, or guys who don't have a partner interested in playing our kinds of games, there are a lot of couples and even single girls who spend time here. (As a side note, we would really like to meet the husbands and boyfriends of that last group. Are you guys crazy?!) Our mail and comments come primarily from women and couples, making them the most "active" participants on the site.

That being said, we are thinking about developing more areas that address good, playful sex between couples and some ideas for including others in the fun. What do you think? We want to know what you would like to see on the site. There is a new poll on the front page. Take a minute and make your mark. Or leave us a comment, or send us a note. However you do it, we would love to hear from you. We promise you will be hearing more from us.
